Biotechnology Summer Camps at Columbia State

A biotechnology summer camp, offered to exceptional high school juniors and seniors in the counties of Giles, Lawrence, Lewis, Marshall, Maury and Wayne, began at the first of June and will run through July. This is a four day camp that will allow students to learn some of the latest advancements in this area of study, meet and interact with scientists and researchers, and to increase their knowledge of biotechnology through hands-on laboratory experiments led by local college and high school faculty at various Columbia State campuses. Students will also explore career opportunities directly related to biotechnology.
