Tennessee Career Center is Coming Up “Rose”

In a day when jobs are not easy to come by, especially if you are not well educated, Rose McCluney found herself at a cross road. The beginning of her journey had started out rocky by leaving school without her diploma, however, later in life she decided that getting her GED would give her career the jumpstart it needed. After hard work and perseverance, she acquired her GED in 1985. Several moves and many jobs later, Rose found herself back in Centerville. “This is God’s country and I had to come back. I love it here,” said McCluney. Needing a job, Rose met with Career Advisor, Rob Mitchell at the Tennessee Career Center. After assessing her interests and potential job direction, Mr. Mitchell suggested that she enroll in the Medical Administrative Assistance class. This was to not only further her education, but it would make her much more marketable for a new job. “Rob is a wonderful person and he truly cared about helping me find a job,” explained Rose.

Upon completion of the class, Rose was recently hired by local employer, Sole Support. Jevin Moore, Controller at Sole Support stated “She’s been doing a great job. We have her doing a variety of tasks from accounts receivable and payable to collections.” Moore added that, “the career center has really done a good job of matching a quality person with our need.”
